The Decadence of Diseases.—Diseases which in former times were very destructive have now disappeared, and some which formerly swept away whole peoples, now only attack individuals. Small-pot, between 1075 and 1757, annually caused from 7 to 10 per cent, of the mortality of London. Now, through the most beneficial of all discoveries, vaccinnation, this loathsome disease, is well migh banished from civilized nations. Measles, which formerly caused 8 to 11 per cent, of the deaths, has now fallen below 2 per cent. From 1675 to 1727, 20 per cent, of the deaths, has now fallen below 2 per cent. From 1675 to 1727, 20 per cent, of the deaths, has now fallen below 2 per cent, and even consumption, which many people think a modern disease, was formally more fatal than now. In the seventeenth century, 17 per cent, of the deaths were caused by consumption. The percentage in London, where the mortality of this disease is still great, is now not more than 10 per cent. One hundred years ago fevers caused the death of one-sixths of the people of London. From 1857 to 1860 this percentage was reduced two-thirds. Some diseases now unknown made frightful havoe in those days of low civilization. The "black death" carried off 25,000,000 of the inhabitants of Enrope in 1349 and 1349. The "sweating sickness" was another terrible scourge. From 1602 to 1665 each year there died in London from 1,000 to 10,400 persons of the plague. For the last 200 years this scourge has appeared only occasionally, and in those parts of Egypt and Asia where civilization has not reproved its causes. Two hundred years ago the deaths averaged annually about THE DECADENCE OF DISEASES - Diseas and Asia where civilization has not removed its causes. Two hundred years ago the deaths averaged annually about one in twenty of the living, even in the most favored districts. From 1846 to 1885 the deaths in England were one in forty-two.—[Dr. Dio Lewis' Paper.

SUICIDES ON THE INCHEASE.—The sta-tistics of 1870 show an increasing tenden-cy to suicide throughout America. The centage was 3.06 per 100,000. In 0 it was 3.02, and 1850 2.01. As usual, the male sex greatly predominates—more than three-fourths being men. Suicide is rare among women who have reached maturity, the majority of the cases being confined to the romantic period of girlhood. Men, on the contrary, resort to it in numbers increasing with resort to it in numbers increasing with age. Ten suicides occur among the whites to one among the blacks, the cheerful, contented disposition of the latter shows where lies the exciting cause of suicide. The rate is higher in the bustling communities of the North than in the more quiet South. But the German and French minds, of all others, appear to be particularly prone to suicide. These nationalities stand nearly as three to one as compared with the Irish, and four to one compared with the native American.

THREE MORE MINERS.—Hassayampa—a creek near Prescott—has just received an addition to its mining population—three good, stout men, who arrived here recently from Pioche, Nevada, and started for the creek Monday last, to work in a claim which they had prospected to their entire satisfaction. It is the claim which was worked by an old Frenchman who THREE MORE MINERS,-Hassayampa was worked by an old Frenchman, who lisappeared, somewhat mysteriously, last summer. Another Piocher, who came here with this party, remains in town. We like to see Nevada's hardy, honest miners settle in our midst. They make the hills ring with sounds of industry, while digging out gold and silver.—[Arizona Miner.

CLOSE RESEMBLANCE. - Several days there has been seen at the depot a man whose general appearance, countenance, gait, etc., so closely resembled those of gatt, etc., so closely resembled those of Charles Mortimer as to cause all who met him and had ever seen Mortimer to remark about it. If the notorious criminal were alive, the person who has been at the depot lately would stand a good chause of getting into trouble through mistaken identity. Yesterday he did not appear at the depot, and those who had been accustomed to his presence there wondered what had become of him.—
